Fab bash at The Well raises nearly $40,000 for Miami Children's Hospital

The hipster and social set turned out big time for a sneak peek of the new hot spot, The Well, under leadership of Shareef Malnik and Buzz Sklar, before its true opening. But it was more than just a preview of Miami Beach's newest lounge: The dynamic duo hosted the fab bash in support of Miami Children's Hospital, led by attorney and Miami Children's Young Ambassadors Leadership Committee member Michael Grieco and WSVN's Louis Aguirre.

Partygoers sipped delicious cocktails by Southern Wine & Spirits and Brown-Forman while socializing with the young and the beautiful and not to mention philanthropic crowd. Grieco and Aguirre welcomed the audience and shared the many wonderful assets of the hospital. Miami Beach City Commissioner Jerry Libbin presented a proclamation to MCH President and CEO Dr. M. Narendra Kini and MCH Foundation President and CEO Lucy Morillo-Agnetti. Dr. Kini announced plans to open additional outpatient centers in the near future — adding to Doral, Miami Lakes, Palmetto Bay, Weston, West Kendall and Palm Beach County — in order to accommodate the increasing demand for pediatric outpatient and specialty services in various communities throughout South Florida. The event raised nearly $40,000 for the children.

PARTY, PARTY

The Soho Beach House seems to be the venue of choice for the hip and happening soirees this past summer and leading up to the Fall social season. Interview magazine recently hosted the exclusive launch party for Editor at Large Christopher Bollen's debut novel, "Lightning People," at the swanky hot spot.

Many of Miami's movers and shakers from the worlds of fashion, corporate industries, entertainment and arts flocked to the laid-back reception including Food Network star Ingrid Hoffmann, handbag designer Laura Buccellati, artist Carlos Betancourt, Telemundo host Candela Ferro, Bass Museum of Art Director of External Affairs Megan Riley, nightlife impresario Zac Courtney, Dr. Leonard Teaches, outdoor living designer Fernando Wong, Fabian Basabe, Helo Campos and Dana Shear.
