on Saturday, April 16, during Driven to Dine, which benefits the Florida Heart Research Institute. The mystery and excitement begin with a cocktail reception at the fabulous home owned by Joanne and James Mitchell in Coco Plum (24 Tahiti Beach Island) where a representative from each limo will draw an envelope, which holds the group's dining destination. Relinquishing their envelopes to the limo drivers before seeing the restaurant name, each group is driven to their dining destination in suspense. Upon arrival guests are pampered by the chefs and restaurant staff with a special meal prepared just for them. Priced at $5,000 for the limo of 8, this event promises unparalleled food and fun—all for a great cause. Individual tickets cost $625. #### BINGO EVERY WEDNESDAY

Forget the dingy, smoky, cavernous Bingo halls of yesteryear and head for the Shane Center (6500 Indian Creek Drive) in Miami Beach on any Wednesday night for a different kind of Bingo experience. This locale overlooks the Indian Creek Waterway and offers players state-of-the-art equipment, (who knew such a thing existed?) including top-of-the-line Bingo King blowers, flashboards, wireless flat-screen TV monitors and large hi-definition projection screens. In addition, there are large jackpots, a guaranteed prize board, free parking in an adjoining lot, and complimentary refreshments. Fortunately, smoking is allowed only on the terraces surrounding the building (but don't do it, just don't!). The admission fee is $25 per person for traditional paper Bingo (less than $2 per game for 14 games) and $35 for a wireless electronic hand set that almost guarantees you will never miss a call. Players must be 18 years old or older to play. Funds earned from Bingo contribute to scholarships for underprivileged youngsters at the Shane Center. Doors open at 6 p.m. and games start at 7. For further information call 305.864.8293 or visit: beachbingo.org.
